

WAS A DEATH TRAP FOR MANY PEOPLE

TORNADO WRECKS A BARN AT LINCOLN, ILL.

Four inmates of the Institution for the Feeble Minded Lose Their Lives—Other Boys and Officers Injured—Storm's Work Elsewhere—Much Damage Is Done.

Lincoln, Ill., June 19.—Lincoln was visited by a tornado Friday. It centered its fury upon the farm buildings of the Illinois Institution for Feeble-Minded Children. Four boys, three from Chicago, were killed under the falling timbers of the main barn. Several of the inmates and two of the officials received serious or fatal injuries. The dead:

CORNELIUS M'KENZIE, aged 13, Chicago.

JAMES O'BRIEN, aged 14, Chicago.

CASTLE D. LE BARON, aged 13, a ward of Mrs. J. K. Carter and L. C. Cooper, Chicago.

SYLVESTER BAKER, aged 12, Coatsville, Adams county, Ill.

The injured:

Jacob Wilmert, superintendent; back, head and abdomen hurt, and internal injuries, supposed to be fatal.

Lemuel Gleason, attendant; serious internal injuries and bruises.

Heinrich Berger, 140 Spring street, Chicago; flesh wound on hip.

Milton Garrow, Ottawa, Ill.; dangerous head cut.

Robert Alcott, 4809 Madison avenue, Chicago, injured hand.

William E. C. Witman, Gray's Lake, Ill., head cut.

The asylum stands on the western border of this city, and two miles south of it is the asylum farm of 600 acres. Here about 600 boys are employed. A class of twenty-six was taken from the main building by Attendant Lemuel Gleason to pick peas on the farm. This work was finished soon after dinner, and the boys were taken to Salt creek, which runs through the farm, to enjoy a swim.

While at the creek, about 3 o'clock, an approaching cloud caused the attendant to warn the boys, who were among the brightest in the institution, to hasten from the creek to the buildings. They took refuge in the barn building, and Superintendent Wilmert was in the barn looking after some stock at the time.

The storm broke at 3:30 o'clock, and but a few minutes afterward the building was struck. The tornado crushed the structure as if it had been of paper.

None of the farm boys were there, but the entire party from the main building, together with their attendant and the farm superintendent, were caught in the crash. The walls fell to the south, as the twisting wind caught them from the north, and the mass of timbers and the great haymow fell in upon the helpless victims.

The rescuers were compelled to chop away the walls and timbers before they could recover the bodies of the dead.

Nearly all the other boys received some injuries, but none so serious as those by Superintendent Wilmert. A serious wound on the head was his lightest injury. His back was hurt and also his abdomen, and it is feared there are internal injuries which may prove fatal.

At the main building no one was injured.

Over 100 windows were broken in the main building and a part of the roof was blown from the north wing. At the custodian's building a large chimney was blown over, crushing through the roof and floors and doing much damage. The total property loss to the state cannot be less than $4,500. Besides this there is a loss to the park which is irreparable.

In the city the storm's fury was not so great, but everywhere there are marks of its strength. Trees are torn to pieces, factory roofs blown off, chimneys toppled over and windows broken everywhere. The parks and Lincoln university campus are blocked with broken trees.

STORMS IN INDIANA.

Two Persons Killed Opposite Irvington, Ky.—Several Hurt Elsewhere.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 19.—Local storms, that now and then almost attained the character of tornadoes, visited many localities in Indiana Friday. Early in the morning the storm broke upon this city. The lightning and thunder were terrific. William Riggs' house, in West Indianapolis, was struck, and Mr. and Mrs. Riggs were injured. At Broad Ripple, a suburb, the lightning tore away a portion of the house of Omer Broadman, and Mr. Broadman was injured.

Out through the state the wind did damage in one place, the lightning in another and the floods in another. Two hundred feet of track on the Chicago division of the Big Four was washed away near Hazeley. On the Peoria & Eastern there were two washouts near Brownsburg, and the Indianapolis & Vincennes is flooded at Mooresville.

The storm struck New Albany at 5 o'clock and unroofed twenty-one buildings. Several stores were badly damaged. Two buildings were struck by lightning. No one was injured.

A dispatch from Bloomington says that a south-bound passenger train on the Monon railroad was caught in the tornado just north of that city and the rear car was struck by lightning. Many of the passengers were stunned, but no one killed.

Greencastle reports that the storm leveled forests in Putnam county and overturned frame houses and barns, but no loss of life has been reported. Telegraph and telephone wires are down in the country.

Near the town of Brownsburg, Hendricks county, there was a cloudburst, and the residents found their houses surrounded by water.

Wabash reports that the storm hovered over that city. Dispatches from Monrovia, Danville, English Amity, Columbus, Carbon and Jeffersonville state that the storm did much damage.

Damage at Canton, Ill.

Canton, Ill., June 19.—The second great storm within three days visited Canton at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The wind was the highest known in this part of the state in years. A cloudburst flooded the streets and cellars. Traffic was stopped for nearly an hour, and much damage done to property. As a queer coincidence, this storm came on the sixty-second anniversary of the tornado that visited Canton when a village of 150 inhabitants. Only five houses were left standing and five people were killed.

Joliet Hit by a Cyclone.

Joliet, Ill., June 19.—Joliet was in possession of a cyclone for one hour on Friday. At 9 o'clock it was dark as night, the wind blew down trees and awnings and broke plate-glass windows. Lightning struck houses in all parts of the city. One of the curious phenomena of the storm was the alternating blasts of intense heat from the northeast with arctic blasts from the west. People became panic-stricken.

Tornado in Nebraska.

Norfolk, Neb., June 19.—A tornado struck here Thursday doing some minor damage to buildings. A. K. Leonard and Loomis McKim were caught in the storm and received painful injuries. Leonard is badly cut about the head and is injured internally. McKim received a broken leg and many cuts and bruises on the body.

Small Tornado in Iowa.

Ottumwa, Iowa, June 19.—A small tornado passed over Rose Hill, a small village in Keokuk county, Friday afternoon, touching the ground in several places just outside the town. The damage done was small.

DAILY BASE BALL REPORT

Results of Yesterday's Games Played in the Various Leagues.

While Chicago strayed off to Brooklyn yesterday, Washington seized the opportunity to slide into tenth place by giving the discomfited Louisvilles another beating—that club's seventh successive defeat. If Boston wins today it will have counted sixteen straight victories, the same record as that made by Philadelphia in the last sixteen games of 1887, when it finished within three games of Detroit. Scores:

At Washington—

Washington 0 0 0 1 1 4 0 2 *—8

CYCLONE RAGES IN FRANCE

Houses Wrecked and Several Persons Killed Near Paris.

Paris, June 19.—A cyclone swept over the villages of Bezons and Colombes, near this city Friday afternoon. Houses collapsed, trees were torn up, telegraph wires were broken, several persons injured and much general damage done. At Asnieres the cyclone worked havoc. Three persons were killed and twenty seriously injured.

At the time the cyclone struck Asnieres a fair was in progress. Everything was literally demolished. A tall chimney was blown down and the boiler exploded, killing several persons and injuring fifteen. It is reported that five persons were killed in a cafe. In every direction houses and other buildings were more or less seriously damaged.

It is estimated that throughout the district over which the cyclone moved at least twenty persons were killed and ninety injured.

LITTLE WORK DONE AT THE CAPITAL

SENATORS SPEND MOST OF FRIDAY IN TALK.

Only One Page of the Tariff Bill Disposed of—Democrats Wrangle Over Protection—South Carolina Statesman's Sensational Assertion—Hawaiian Treaty May Not Come Up

Washington, June 19.—The tariff bill came to a halt in the senate Friday, less than one page of the flax schedule being disposed of. The debate drifted into political channels, Senators Bacon, Vest, Jones (Ark.) and Tillman taking part in an exposition of Democratic doctrine on the tariff. It led to several lively exchanges, during which the cleaning of political "dirty linen" was frequently referred to. Mr. Tillman's remarks were made with his characteristic vehemence, and at one point he frankly stated concerning the tariff that if there was to be stealing he wanted his share for South Carolina.

Mr. Vest (Mo.) made a test contest at the outset, moving to strike out the first paragraph, flax straw, at $5 a ton. He said the whole flax schedule was based on the idea that we could produce the flax, but he denied this. Ireland was the only country in which the flax for linen could be successfully produced and he declared that the Minnesota flax had not proved satisfactory.

The amendment was rejected, 18 to 28, Mr. McEnery voting with the Republicans.

Mr. Allison (Iowa), in charge of the bill, withdrew the senate amendment on flax, not hatched or dressed, leaving the house rate of 1 cent a pound stand. He also withdrew the committee amendment on dressed flax, leaving the house rate of 3 cents.

Mr. Pettigrew (S. D.) declared that the proposed rate ought to be doubled, as an encouragement to the flourishing flax industry of the northwest. Mr. Pettigrew derided the result of placing a duty on raw cotton.

This brought a response from Mr. Bacon (Ga.) who took the lead in the contest for a duty on raw cotton. There was a flagrant discrimination, he said, between the raw products of the farmers of the south and those of the north, the cotton bagging and cotton ties used by the south being taxed while the binding twine used by the north was free.

Mr. Allison interjected the remark that the committee hoped before the senate was through with the bill that a just equilibrium would be established.

Mr. Stewart made a general argument in support of the policy of a duty on raw material. He asserted that any other course was contrary to the last Democratic platform. Mr. Stewart said the money question was the real question. Mr. Jones (Ark.) criticized the entire flax schedule as designed to place a heavy burden on the poor, who used the low grades of goods.

Late in the day Mr. Morgan proposed a sweeping amendment to place a 10 per cent ad valorem duty on all articles now on the free list, with a few stated exceptions. In supporting the amendment Mr. Morgan called attention to the singular fact that the income tax feature of the Wilson bill is not repealed, and can be enforced by a change in the personnel of the Supreme court of the United States.

Hawaii Must Wait.

Washington, June 19.—Senator Davis, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, said Friday that he would not make an effort to press the Hawaiian treaty to final consideration in the senate during the present session of congress.

Support President Baker.

Chicago, June 19.—The Board of Trade membership, at an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon, decided to support President Baker and his directors in their struggle with the grain elevator proprietors over the question of "regular" houses. The amendment which will be submitted to vote Monday is as follows: "Warehouses so declared irregular by the board of directors shall not be used by the proprietor or manager thereof for storing therein any grain or flaxseed bought or owned by them, or any of them, directly or indirectly, or for storing therein any grain or flaxseed which has been cleaned or mixed in any way in any elevator or warehouse in which said proprietors or managers, or any of them, are or may be directly or indirectly interested."

Kansas Town Is Nearly Wiped Out.

Larned, Kas., June 19.—A cyclone swept through the northwestern part of this county between 6 and 7 o'clock Thursday night. Rosel, a small village on the Jetmore extension of the Santa Fe, eighteen miles west of here, was struck and almost completely wiped out of existence. Two grain elevators and every house in the place were swept away. It seems almost a miracle that no human lives were lost. The loss to the farmers in the cyclone section will aggregate many thousands of dollars.

May Control the Railways.

Berne, June 19.—The state council by a vote of 26 to 17 has declared in favor of the state acquiring the railroads of Switzerland.

THE TRADE REVIEW BY DUN & COMPANY

THEY SEE INDICATIONS OF PROSPERITY.

Material Improvement Reported in the Business Conditions of the Country—Industrial Field Shows Life—The Failures of the Week Show a Decided Decrease.

New York, June 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

"The retarding influence of cold and unseasonable weather has passed. The gain in business in spite of it was seen a week ago, and has become clearer to all. There is evidence of gradually enlarging business in every important department; more establishments have been set at work and more hands employed. Reports from the various cities this week show a very general progress and continuing large distribution through retail trade.

"The proof is clearer, as it should be, in the industrial than in the trading field. Contracts providing for consumption of 7,000,000 tons of iron ore have already been made, 2,000,000 within the past fortnight. Bessemer ore is selling lower by 20 to 30 cents than at the outset. Sales of pig iron at Chicago—150,000 tons—have been the largest for eighteen months. The orders for 50,000 tons of bars at Chicago, and the orders for many new buildings at the West, the larger demand for plates and sheets, the order for twenty-two miles of pipe, and the purchase of steel rails which have started the new Joliet works with good orders, are far more important than the speculation in materials.

"The demand for print cloths for the first time in many months has exceeded the week's production, and the price has risen a shade, while prints and other grades of cotton goods are in slightly better demand. There is a more widely distributed business in woolens than was expected. At Boston almost 10,000,000 pounds of wool were sold against 6,551,300 at New York and Philadelphia. In produce markets the year draws toward a close with slightly stronger prices for corn, owing to heavy foreign buying, and in cotton, owing to a better foreign demand, notwithstanding more encouraging crop reports. Wheat was hoisted nearly 2 cents, but fell about as much.

"Failures for the week have been 198 in the United States against 276 last year, and 36 in Canada against 28 last year."

CRASHES INTO A CROWD

One Woman Fatally Injured at Peoria, and Many Hurt.

Peoria, Ill., June 19.—William Mitendorf, 6 years old, was drowned in the river here Friday afternoon, and about 8 o'clock at night a crowd of 100 persons stood on a railroad trestle 20 feet high watching the searchers diving and dragging the river for the body. Several freight cars were switched on to the trestle into the midst of the crowd. The people jumped, ran and fell in all directions. Miss Nancy Berry was fatally injured and several others were slightly hurt. Five cars passed over Miss Berry, severing both legs from her body.

Mrs. Seibert Kutts was in the crowd with her 2-year-old child. She threw herself flat on the trestle between the rails, and held her babe between the railroad ties over the water twenty feet below. She remained in this position until seven cars had passed over her, but she was not touched. The shock and excitement prostrated her, however, and may prove fatal.

Will Demand Freedom for Cuba.

London, June 19.—The Washington correspondent of the Daily Chronicle declares that President McKinley has instructed Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, the minister-elect to Spain, to demand reparation and indemnity for the death of the late Dr. Ruiz, and to intimate to Spain that if she refuses to grant freedom to Cuba she must be prepared to yield to force, which would mean large sacrifices of men and money.

Victory for Banker Spaulding.

Chicago, June 19.—Only twenty-eight indictments now prevent Charles W. Spaulding, president of the defunct Globe Savings Bank, from leaving the county jail. Twelve men freed him from the twenty-ninth in Judge Smith's court room yesterday afternoon, bringing in a verdict of "not guilty" in final settlement of the charge of embezzling $7,500 bonds belonging to the University of Illinois.

Methodist Pioneer's Death.

Rockford, Ill., June 19.—The Rev. James Baume, father of Judge J. S. Baume of Galena, and one of the most prominent Methodist clergymen of Illinois, died Friday at the age of 73. For fifteen years he was a missionary to India.

Revenue Receipts Fall Off.

Washington, June 19.—The monthly statement of the collections of internal revenue shows that the total receipts during May were $10,816,892, a net decrease as compared with May, 1896, of $647,598.

Verdi Seriously Ill.

Rome, June 19.—The Messaggero says that Giuseppe Verdi, the celebrated composer, now in his 83d year, is seriously ill.

ADMITTED INTO CONFERENCE

New Congregations in the United Norwegian Lutheran Church.

St. Paul, June 19.—At Friday's session of the conference of the United Norwegian Lutheran church the following congregations were admitted into membership: Immanuel congregation, Suttons Bay, Mich.; St. Paul congregation, Norman county, Minnesota; Our Savior's congregation, Republic county, Kansas; Deer Creek congregation, Furnas county, Nebraska; Zion's congregation, Garretson, S. D.; Big Stone congregation, Clinton, Minn.; Glen Flora, Glen Flora, Minn.

During the convention those who have been most interested in the progress of the English language within the church have been holding conventions. Little or nothing had been done along the lines of English preaching previous to this. Now there is an English conference within the church and its membership has increased. Professor E. G. Lund was elected president.

National Council Plan Upheld.

Pittsburg, June 19.—At Friday's session of the National Council of the Junior Order of American Mechanics a long discussion was caused by a resolution to change the national council representation. It was finally rejected, and the representation will remain at five delegates from each state, with one additional delegate for every 3,000 members. In future three blackballs reject a candidate, and no reasons can be required. The ballots shall be cast in secret, and no one need know who opposed the candidates. The rejection of a candidate by three or more blackballs cannot be reconsidered.

Their Eyes on Washington.

Chicago, June 19.—With the state of Washington occupying first thought, it is said that the location of the proposed co-operative commonwealth of the old American Railway union has narrowed down to two states, the second one being Idaho. President Debs is said to favor Washington. It is pointed out that if an attempt was made to get control of Tennessee, Colorado, Utah or Texas it would take a century, and might never be accomplished. It is known that Mr. Debs has had correspondence with the governor of Washington, and that he is favorably inclined toward the proposed effort.

May End the School Question.

Ottawa, Ont., June 19.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, minister of the interior, left for Winnipeg Friday afternoon. It is understood that he goes in connection with the school question. Just what point the Roman Catholics want cannot be learned, but it is said that it does not in any way make any departure from the public school system. Premier Greenway has always said that he would be willing to do anything that he could to assist the Roman Catholics provided they accepted the common schools.

Fire Loss in a Texas Town.

Whitewright, Texas, June 19.—Fire early Friday morning destroyed five blocks of buildings. The loss is $56,625, insured for $34,070. Seven persons were injured, those most seriously hurt being H. C. Willis, overcome by heat, and W. J. Ashley, arm broken.

Ran Into an Open Switch.

Danville, Ill., June 19.—A Chicago & Eastern Illinois excursion train, en route from Terre Haute to Mokena, Ill., with 700 passengers, ran into an open switch at the junction here on Friday, and collided with a freight train. Engines of both trains were badly demolished, but not a passenger was seriously injured. Application of air brakes prevented a terrible wreck.

Duty on Wrapper Tobacco.

Washington, June 19.—The controversy over the rate of duty on wrapper tobacco, which has been in progress ever since the tariff bill was taken up in the senate, was settled Friday, so far as the republican members of the finance committee could settle it, by agreeing upon a rate of $1.75 per pound. This is a compromise rate.

Lutheran Ministers in Conference.

Norwalk, Ohio, June 19.—The German Lutheran churches of Ohio and Michigan, comprising the eastern district of Iowa, is holding the sixteenth annual convention in this city, and the meetings will continue until Monday. There are about eighty delegates present, half of whom are clergymen.

Rev. Dr. L. D. McCabe Dead.

Delaware, O., June 19.—Rev. Lorenzo D. McCabe, D. D., LL. D., for fifty years a professor in the Ohio Wesleyan University and a distinguished author and theologian in the Methodist Episcopal church, died at 3 o'clock Friday morning, in his eighty-first year.

Judge Sibley Is Dead.

Quincy, Ill., June 19.—Judge Joseph Sibley died here Friday morning. He served as circuit judge in the old Fifteenth circuit, comprising the counties of Adams, Hancock and Henderson, from 1855 to 1879. In 1877 he was also on the appellate bench.

Retailers to Organize.

New York, June 19.—A convention of retail wall paper dealers will be held at Niagara Falls, N. Y., on June 29. An effort will be made to form the entire retail wall paper trade of the United States and Canada into one association.

ROSS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

THE CHIPPEWA MURDER CASE IS ENDED.

Jury Fix the Crime as One of Fourth Degree—When Sentence Is Completed, He Will Be Tried on the Other Charge—Other State Specials.

Appleton, Wis., June 19.—[Special]

—Porter Ross, who killed his wife, Nellie Ross, at a resort in Kauaunoa on March 8 was found guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

After his sentence is served Ross will be arraigned for the killing of Kittie Duprey, his murdered wife's sister, whom he shot at the same time and place. The case went to the jury last night.

Body of a Woman in the River.

Portage, Wis., June 19.—The badly decomposed trunk of a woman, minus head, arms and legs, was found floating in the Wisconsin river four miles below this place Friday. There were many indications of clothing. There was not a vestige of murder or anything that would aid in identification.

College Secretaries Meet.

Williams Bay, Wis., June 19.—The eighth annual session of the college student conference opened Friday at the camp grounds of the Western Secretarial Institute of the Young Men's Christian Association. About 350 students are here, comprising delegates from 130 different colleges.

FLAW IN HAWAIIAN TREATY

No Provision Restricting the Registration of Foreign Vessels.

Washington, June 19.—There is a serious oversight in the Hawaiian treaty, due undoubtedly to the fact that it was rushed to a finish earlier than had been expected on account of the imminence of serious trouble with Japan. There is no provision to prevent the owners of hundreds of foreign vessels from securing Hawaiian registries, and then, when annexation comes, claiming American registries. Under the American registry laws no foreign-built vessel can engage in the coastwise trade of the United States. This branch of commerce is of enormous extent, employing thousands of vessels and bringing activity to scores of American shipyards.

Boies May Be Leader.

Des Moines, June 19.—The Democrats, Populists and free silver Republicans will hold their state conventions in this city next Wednesday, and as yet they have no idea who will be nominated for governor. Ex-Governor Boies declares he is not a candidate for the nomination, but it is the opinion of the best informed politicians that he can be induced to accept and that he will be nominated.

Half a Loaf for Miners.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 19.—The miners who work in the Miown mine have decided to resume work at the cut rate. Under the new schedule they will receive 54 cents instead of 60 cents per ton for their work, the lowest price ever paid in the district. If they work every day the 100 miners can earn $6 per week, but as they only get about half time, their earnings average $3.

Fifty Families Homeless.

Winnipeg, Man., June 19.—Dispatches from the West report serious floods and a cloudburst west of Calgary, in the Rocky mountains. The suburbs of Calgary are submerged, fifty families are made homeless, and several bridges are washed away. There has been no loss of life, but the damage to property will be heavy.

Explosion Kills Three.

Windsor, Conn., June 19.—At 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon a large quantity of powder in a building attached to the plant of the Hazard Powder company, at Hazardville, exploded and three men were killed. Several buildings were slightly damaged, and the whole village was shaken.

Friends from a distance will please call at the store of J. N. Reynolds & Co., register their names and receive their donations.

By Order Executive Committee,
D. CLARY, Secy.
Beloit, June 9, 1847.

The word Beloit was declared in an early day to be a corruption of the French word "Bellet," signifying printing. Cabel Blodgett, a native of Vermont, purchased the claim of Thibot, which was included in the present boundaries of Beloit.

The town which subsequently sprang up was first named New Albany but was afterward changed to Beloit.

Beloit College will begin the celebration of her golden jubilee tomorrow evening, with a prize oratorical contest in the First Congregational church.

This will be a departure from the custom of the college, for the commencement exercises have always begun on Monday. This year, however, owing to the fact that 1897 is the jubilee year of the college, pressure for time has compelled the faculty and students to begin the exercises two days in advance.

The annual address before the Christian associations will be delivered Sunday morning in the First Congregational church by Rev. James D. Eaton, a brother of President Eaton. Dr. Eaton has been a successful missionary in Mexico. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered in college chapel Sunday afternoon by the president. The only drawback in this matter is the extremely small size of the chapel, which will certainly be inadequate to hold the large crowd that will demand admission to these interesting services.

Young Women to Speak Monday.

The young women will have their speaking exercises on Monday. Tuesday will be the anniversary day. The exercises on Tuesday will be the central feature of the jubilee. On that day will be the largest crowds and the addresses to be made will be most interesting.

Among the speakers will be Dr. S. F. Savage, Professor C. T. Chamberlain, P. F. Pettibone, John R. Montgomery, Professor Peter Hendrickson and Frederick Staff. They are all Chicago men and alumni of Beloit.

At the opening of Tuesday's exercises the bust of the late President A. L. Chapin, executed by Lorado Taft, the noted Chicago sculptor, will be unveiled. An address eulogistic of the late president will be delivered by Professor Joseph Emerson. Professor Chapin will deliver a biographical address concerning his distinguished father and this ceremony of the unveiling of the bust will be one of the most inspiring and interesting events of the jubilee celebration.

On Wednesday the graduation exercises will be held. They will begin at 9 o'clock a. m. Only three members of the class will speak. These are Benson as valedictorian, Blanchard as salutatorian and Privat of Oak Park, Ill. Frederick Staff, '86, will give the master's oration. On this occasion Professor T. L. Wright will recite an ode and Horace White, the noted journalist of New York, class of '53 will deliver an address. Many of Beloit's alumni, among them several men who have distinguished themselves in the world at large, will be present. A dinner, in which the alumni will be conspicuous, will follow the graduating exercises.

History of the Old School.

Beloit College was the earliest sprig of civilization in this part of the United States. It was founded about the same time that it had been said in Washington that the territory of Wisconsin would never be the habitation of the white man. For, as it had been argued there was nothing here to invite the white man to come and stay. At that time it required the price of a bushel of corn to pay the postage of a letter, and the nearest landing point was 100 miles away. That was a half century ago, but the missionaries knew better, and it is to their self-sacrifice and courage that Beloit owes its glorious existence today and the fact that it is now celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of its foundation. The beauty of the jubilee will most largely consist in the presence of several men who were living and present when Beloit was dedicated. The originals of Beloit will be much thought of. These may be mentioned as Professor Bushnell, President Chapin, Professor Emerson, Professor Porter, Professor Blaisdell and Professor Whitney. Of these, three have passed away. They are President Chapin, Professor Bushnell and Professor Blaisdell.

"Grand Old Man" of Beloit.

The central figure of the celebration will be Professor Emerson, the grand old man of Beloit. He is now past 70 years of age and of late infirmity has circumscribed his usefulness. But his eye is as bright and his mind as keen as ever. He came to Beloit in 1848 and on his arrival was greeted by his old friend and classmate, Jackson Bushnell.

"Do you think we can have a college here?" asked Emerson.

"Yes," said Bushnell, "if we make it."

How they collaborated to make it the history of western America can testify.

Other old professors and pioneers will be present at the jubilee to testify to the growth of civilization in the middle west and on the whole the jubilee will be an event long to be remembered in these precincts.

SUNDAY'S SERMON SUBJECTS

BAPTIST CHURCH—Dr. E. A. Read, of Fontaine, Ill., will preach both morning and evening services at the Baptist church tomorrow.

The Time When Eatables Taste Best.

At no time does a meal touch the spot to the fullest extent like the one eaten at a picnic or during the outing season. Especial preparation is always made at events of these kinds along the provision line. Sanborn's store is better equipped with eatables that touch the palate and that are especially carried for picnickers and campers than any place in the city. A complete list is given on page 8 this evening, of the good things.

Annual State Meet. L. A. Wheelmen at Racine.

For the annual state meet, Wisconsin L. A. and W. to be held at Racine July 1, 2 and 3 the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will sell excursion tickets at a fare and one third for the round trip from June 30 to July 3, inclusive, good for return until and including July 5.

WORK OF THE TURK BY SWORD AND FIRE

AWFUL SCENES WITNESSED BY MISSIONARIES.

Mrs. William H. Tallman Receives a Letter From Miss Meda Hess, Whom She Helped to Educate—Says People Were Hacked and Shot Before Her Very Eyes.

Mrs. William H. Tallman is in receipt of an interesting letter from the pen of Miss Meda Hess, a former American woman, whom Mrs. Tallman helped educate, and who is in the "massacre district" of Turkey, where she is serving as a missionary. Miss Hess is located at the post of Morash. In speaking of the cruel deeds of the Turk in that country, she says that it has left orphans to the mercy of the world, by the thousands.

"Do you wish to know what impresses me most, as being the great difference between Christianity and other religions?" writes Miss Hess. "It is the worth that it attaches to the individual soul. I wonder if the churches at home realize the value of a human being? It was worth the death of a God and yet it is not worth $25 a year to a church. Every church ought to adopt an orphan. Here they will be educated, taught trades and taught their duty to their God and to their fellow men. There are today from 2,700 to 3,000 orphans in our field waiting the judgment of the christian world."

The School Work.

Miss Hess says the life of a school teacher in that country is a hard one. In one of their rooms, 15x20 feet, were seated on the floor 110 children. There was one poor girl teacher of fifteen years struggling with that school. It is against the law there to teach or have school in a building without first having a permit from the government. No permission is to be had under any circumstances, and if they were to disregard this rule they would find themselves ordered out of the country.

"The work at the recent massacres," writes Miss Hess, "is worse to contemplate than the fate of those who were killed. The work of the Turkish sword and fire left in the vicinity of Morash 75,000 people to be cared for. During the siege of Jeltun, thousands died from starvation, as well as from typhoid fever and small pox. During the dreadful massacre, our theological seminary was burned and plundered, and we were expecting to be killed every moment. Two of our students were shot and hacked in a brutal manner before my very eyes. Our Girls' College was not burned and we had to take in young girls to keep them from being carried off by Moslems."

Stories of Survivors.

For many months after the massacre the future of the thousands of orphan children was indeed dark. Some of these orphans bear scars of sword and bullet wounds. One little girl tells of how she got separated from her parents as they were fleeing from the cruel Turks at Furmer, where occurred one of the most dreadful slaughters. Little Marian fleeing alone for her life hid for two days in a cave to which the soldiers came saying, "There is sure to be an infidel dog concealed here." They searched the cave hurriedly but it was dark and they did not find the little girl hidden in one corner. Little Marian then made her way to a nearby village and on the way she saw a baby trying to take nourishment from its dead mother. These orphans by the thousands all have heart rendering tales to tell.

"We look forward to the future with some anxiety" the letter continues. "Having taken in these children, to throw them back into nakedness and want and ignorance a year or two hence from failure of funds will seem almost worse than never to have taken them."

THE FLAG POLE DEDICATED

G. A. R. Conducted the Exercises at the C. & N. W. Shops.

The new flag pole at the C. & N. W. shops was dedicated last evening, the G. A. R. and the Light Infantry taking part. A crowd of three or four hundred people attended the ceremonies, C. D. Child, commander of the post presided and announced the program. Prayer was offered by Rev. R. C. Denison after which E. O. Kimberley, William Garbutt and D. Bennett sang "Long Wave Old Glory." Mayor John Thoroughgood then made a happy address. After the singing of the "Centennial Hymn," Rev. H. W. Thompson spoke eloquently, paying a tribute to the railroad men. Dr. J. B. Whiting was the next speaker and his remarks were in his usual happy vein. The unfurling of the flag followed, and three cheers were given the banner by the Post. Three cheers were also given for Foreman Whalen, who has been the moving spirit in the raising of the flag and pole.

Everybody cordially invited to attend.

THE cup cake social given by Yuba Circle Golden Band at I. O. O. F. hall last evening was a very pleasant entertainment. A program was given, of selections by the gramophone, operated by Fred H. Koebin, recitations by Jessie O'Neill, Jessie Heath, Josephine Fenton, Edith Reynolds and little Helen Stanton and a vocal selection by Carrie and Edith Reynolds.

CITY Attorney McElroy was much disgusted over the outcome of the Lynch case yesterday, and said that it was useless to try and enforce the city ordinances as long as juries refused to uphold the officers in the performance of their duties. It is said that one runaway was caused by leaving the dead horse in the street, and that it was with difficulty that a team could be made to pass the carcass. Chief Hogan said that many complaints were made to him concerning the matter.

COMPLETE VICTORY

For the Plucky Discoverer of the Great Remedy.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills

Result of a Few Weeks' Test by the People of Janesville.

They Cure and Relieve Backache, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Blood and Rheumatism.

Many Persons Cured and Many More Receiving Benefit.

SALES ARE ENORMOUS.

About two weeks ago this paper gave public notice that Dr. Hobbs, the well known specialist in diseases of the kidneys, had made a discovery which, if his claims would be substantiated, would revolutionize the treatment of all kidney diseases. In order that the public might be given the benefit of this discovery without cost, they were not only asked, but urged, to call at C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy, this city, and get a trial package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills and his Little Liver Pills.

And that the claims of Dr. Hobbs might be severely tested, physicians were specially invited to procure samples and use them among their patients.

Dr. Hobbs' faith in the value of Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills and Dr. Hobbs Little Liver Pills to suffering humanity was so great that he staked the future of his remedies in Janesville upon the verdict of his citizens regardless of their wealth, poverty, position or profession. The whole city was invited to participate in the test and render the verdict, which meant much to him and much more to the thousands suffering from that most insidious and devastating disease of this era—kidney trouble and also liver troubles, weak stomach and bowel difficulties. Every one was enabled to form his own judgment as to the value of this medicine without prejudice. Does any sane man or woman believe for one moment that any physician would dare to so openly challenge public opinion, were he not absolutely certain of his ground?

The following is a sample of the good done by these pills:

Cured Him of Backache and Rheumatism

I would be shirking my duty to humanity if I neglected to tell how much Dr. Hobbs' Kidney Pills have helped me. For about eight years I was a sufferer from pains in the back and rheumatism in my hip at times so bad that I was compelled to keep in bed. Every kind of remedy suggested by many friends was tried without satisfactory results. The old troubles would return with renewed vigor. At last I heard of the wonders performed by Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills and procured some of C. D. Stevens, the druggist. The result of their use is that my back now feels strong, the pains have gone and I am entirely free from rheumatism. I cannot command words strong enough to with which to praise the remedy. P. J. CROWLEY, 57 Lincoln St., Janesville, Wis.

A Man, Seventy-Eight Years Old, Completely Cured of Kidney Trouble.

A DANGEROUS WARNING

People are Altogether too Careless in Regard to Coughs and Colds.

The Indians Never Had Them.

We Could be as Free From Such Troubles and as Healthy as They Were if we but Followed Their Example.

There are few people who realize that a cough is really a serious matter, and if neglected, it may result in troubles that never can be remedied. It is but a short step from the first slight tickling in the throat to a severe cough, and then, the first thing you know you are down with pneumonia, kept away from your work for weeks, if indeed, you are ever able to go back again. What is worse, this apparently slight cough may develop into consumption. This means months of suffering to be passed through with death the only hope of relief. These coughs, colds and everything resulting from them, were unknown to the Indians. The reason is the Indian's great care and his watchfulness over his health, and the use at the first symptoms of any trouble, of the remedies which had been used for hundreds of years in his tribe, and which for generations had been proved to be a cure for all such troubles.

All those who suffer from coughs should follow the Indian's example, and take Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure when the first symptoms appear, and they will be like the Indian, healthy and free from more serious complications.

A few words of praise comes to us from Racine in regard to this wonderful cough remedy, which reads as follows:—
"To all suffering people: I had a very severe sore throat. Could not speak for a week. My friends recommended me to use Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure. I took three or four doses after four o'clock in the afternoon, and the next morning, to my great surprise, I could speak almost as well as ever. It finally cured me. Yours truly, Miss Katie Halberstadt, Racine, Wis."

Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure will positively do the same in your case, if taken from the start. If your cough has gone too far, and your system has, in consequence, become weakened, take Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. It will purify your blood, strengthen your stomach, liver and kidneys, and by making these great organs of the body strong, insure health. To such remedies as these does the Indian owe his perfect health and long life.

Kickapoo Indian Remedies may be had at all druggists.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa sells for $1 per bottle.

Excursion Tickets to Racine.

Via the Northwestern Line will be sold at reduced rates June 30 to July 3, inclusive, limited to July 5 on account of Wisconsin State Meet. L. A. W. Apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern R'y.

When bilious or constive, eat a candy cathartic, cure guaranteed, 10 and 25 cents.

Excursion Rates to Lake Kegonsa.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co., will sell round trip excursion tickets to Lake Kegonsa, Wisconsin at $1.25 from May 15 daily to September 30 limited to 30 days.

This lake is situated in one of the most delightful places in the state. The lake is four miles long and three miles wide, possessing a number of pretty bays, spring water, bathing and fishing. All trains stop at the lake.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away. ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- 1786—Major General Nathaniel Greene, hero of the Revolutionary war, died at Mulberry Grove, Ga.
1794—Richard Henry Lee, president at one time of congress and the first to introduce resolutions for independence, died; born 1732.
1864—Battle of the Kearsarge MAXIMILIAN, and Alabama off Cherbourg, France.
1867—Maximilian, titular emperor of Mexico, was shot at Queretaro by the republicans; born 1832. Maximilian was a brother of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. He had been deceived as to the real situation in Mexico, and on assuming the imperial dignity offered by a delegation of notables found bitter opposition at the hands of the Liberals. He was taken prisoner after a sharp battle at Queretaro and executed in retaliation for his harsh decrees against Mexicans who resisted his authority. Zealous efforts were made by influential Europeans and Americans in Mexico to save the life of the hapless prince.
1886—Charles Augustus Hobart (Hobart Pasha), Turkish admiral and marshal, died at Milan. Hobart resigned from the royal navy, in which he held the rank of captain, and became a noted blockade runner in the Confederate service. At the end of the war he entered the navy of the sultan.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Robert Lindblom's Letter On the Condition of Crops and Trade.

Chicago, June 19.—[Special to Byrd & Law Commission Co.]—Primary receipts of wheat for the week are 64,000 more, and exports are 70,000 more than a week ago. The visible supply will probably show a decrease of about two million bushels and the market has ruled firm all day in anticipation of this.

Export clearances of wheat and flour are very liberal for the week and there have been no new bear features developed in the market, unless it be somewhat more improvement in the winter wheat outlook and the maintenance of the fine condition in the northwest. The bull arguments as regards July wheat, are of a specific character, based on a prospective scarcity of wheat and on a chance for manipulation of July wheat, but this theory of manipulation has somewhat subsided, because some of our leading bulls have sold out their wheat and bought September instead. This is all very well so far as it goes; but if it should turn out that a party and one party alone, still has holding enough to control the market then the chances for manipulation would be enhanced rather than decreased by virtue of the surrender of these outside holdings.

September and December wheat depend upon general condition such as we have alluded to repeatedly heretofore, namely improvement in general condition, a change which must be for the better rather than for worse, empty granaries and excessive supplies no where. These conditions, however, will assert themselves over a long period of time, but may be lost sight of temporarily.

Corn depends on weather conditions mostly.

INTERESTING CASE AT LAW.

Beloit Woman Sues For Compensation—To Appeal the Case.

The case of Sarah J. Valentine of Beloit against the estate of Harriet Holmes, deceased, for services rendered during the last five years of the life of Mrs. H. lmes, was tried before Judge Sale in the county court. J. B. Dow and William Smith appearing for the claimant and S. J. Todd and J. C. Rood appearing for the executor, Rev. Fayette Royce of St. Paul's church, on the part of the estate.

Harriet Holmes, after the death of her husband, Egbert Holmes, in 1891, made will giving to her niece, Sarah J. Valentine, one hundred dollars and to St. Paul's church, for the purchase of a bell, four hundred dollars. After the making of the will Mrs. Holmes lived some five years and Miss Valentine filed a claim for service rendered during all these years, asking only for three dollars a week covering this period of time. The claim was objected to by the executor and was tried before the court as above indicated.

The defense was that the presumption of law was that her service was gratuitous, she being a relative and friend of the family. The faithful service was admitted, the time and value of the services was not contradicted. The decision of the court, however, allowed her pay for but one year at three dollars per week. It is understood that the case will be appealed to a higher court.

WOMAN HAD MANY CHILDREN

Brought Eight With Her and Left Three At Home.

A lady thirty-four years old, who gave her name as Mrs. Anna Young, was at the St. Paul depot this morning, on her way to Milwaukee. She had eight neatly dressed children—seven boys and one girl—with her, and all were her own offspring. To Officer Appleby, who helped her aboard the train, she stated that three pairs of these children were twins and that if it hadn't looked as though she was trying to "beat the railroad company," she would have brought along her three remaining sons instead of leaving them at home.

When You Get Ready.

When you have consulted everybody else and have been treated for every known and unknown disease; when you have filled your system with one-pattern, ready-made, same-for-all, sure-cure preparations; when you have tried charms, spells, fakes, fads and fancies; if experience has taught you that Nature alone possesses the power to heal; that certain remedies assist Nature, but none of them cure; that it is better to work with Nature than to fight the disease; that the surest way to cure disease is to remove the cause of that disease, then we will gladly assist you with Rational remedies and methods which tend to build up and strengthen the entire system until Nature can assert herself and the Cause of disease is removed.

We treat the Patient, not the disease. This is one reason why we succeed where others have failed.

FIRE BALLS DANCED ON ALL THE WIRES

SEVERE ELECTRICAL STORM
RAGED THIS MORNING.

Vivid Flashes of Lightning and Deafening Crashes of Thunder Kept Timid Folks Awake—Much Damage Done to Telephone and Telegraph Lines—Small Buildings Blown Down.

The worst electrical storm of the year struck the city in all its fury at 3 o'clock this morning, and people were kept awake by frequent blinding flashes followed by crashing claps of thunder. There was no rest for the weary, and it was not a few that thought a St. Louis calamity was upon the town. The telephone and telegraph wires served as runways for the agile fluid and to see snapping balls of fire merrily chasing each other was a common sight down town. At the local telephone exchange the operators kept at a safe distance from the switch board, for at times that instrument was all ablaze, and balls of fire would shoot along the wires toward the office. The long distance metallic lines between this city and Watertown, as well as between here and Beloit, were cut and broken in several places by the electrical current, so that communication was entirely cut off. Communication between here and Emerald Grove could not be had, as the wires were burned off in two different places.

Other Damage Done.

Thirty-five arresters in different phone boxes in all parts of the city were ruined. At Buob's brewery, on South Main street, lightning struck the telephone wire and followed into the office where it took a turn along the ceiling, tearing paper and doing other slight damage. All members of the family were suddenly awakened and slightly shocked.

At C. H. Bailey's Riverside Park residence the lightning entered the house via the telephone wire, burning a small place in the woodwork but otherwise causing little damage.

At the office of the Western Union Telegraph company every instrument was burned out, and Manager Carpenter could not get the wires in working order till a late hour.

Manager Slater of the Wisconsin Telephone company says it will take considerable time to put the telephone wires in perfect working order again. Street Commissioner Palmer says several washouts of a minor nature were the results of the heavy down-pour.

The high wind that accompanied the storm blew down several small out-buildings and trees in the outside districts.

The fire bell struck a single tap several times during the storm, but no damage was done to the wire system.

Lamb Farm Swept by a Small Cyclone

The "small cyclone" raised havoc near Johnston Center during the late severe storm, and did extensive damage. Among the farms swept was one owned by Wallis Lamb. The wind with all its fury struck the barns upon this place, blowing the side in and removing the top from one of them. A sixty foot windmill was twisted to pieces as if it was so much paper and blown half way through one of the largest barns.

A corn crib containing farm implements was blown high in the air while one of the largest barns was lifted from its foundation several inches. A steer that was in one of the barns had its leg broken so that the beast had to be killed. No one was injured and the damage seemed to be confined to the Lamb farm. Mr. Lamb says that he was at prayer meeting when the damage was wrought.

NO ONE MOURNED HIS DEATH.

But a Single Hearse Composed A. P. Smith's Cortege.

One solitary hearse composed the funeral procession that escorted the remains of Arthur P. Smith, of Des Moines, to Oak Hill cemetery this morning. Smith was the young man who was drowned at Monterey on Thursday evening. On the coffin was a bunch of roses, the gift of a kind hearted lady in this city whose sympathies were with the friendless young man, when she heard that there would be no mourners. At the grave those who had charge of the remains acted as pall bearers and the Rev. W. H. Wotton, of Trinity church, conducted brief but impressive services.

Chief of Police Hogan received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Thomas Kelly, step father of the deceased, stating that the boy's relatives were scattered, but to have him buried at an expense not to exceed $25 and he would see that it was paid.

THAT sample line of umbrellas that you have waited for, are here and on sale at our usual simple prices. All the robbiest get ups are in the line, all the new handles, all the colors, plain and changeable. Page 7 tells more. Archie Reid & Co.

INTEREST is becoming keener every day in the free bicycle offer of Sanborn's. People find they can get tea and coffee cheaper and in greater assortment here than elsewhere, and as the same time secure a numbered coupon on every 50 cent purchase.

EDITOR LIBBY, of the Evansville Enterprise, is always on the side of right. He says:—"Of all the mean, depraved acts we have learned of, is the placing of tacks in bicycle tracks. If you don't like the bicycle rider, kill him or her, but don't stop as to wreck your vengeance upon the unfeeling wheel."

It was decided this afternoon that the Rock County Ex-Soldiers and Sailors' Union should hold its annual meeting August 12. The place, Milton Junction, was decided upon last summer. There will be a picnic dinner, singing and speaking. Col. A. G. Weissert of Milwaukee, will make the principal address. Department Commander Gray is expected to be present.

A MERRY party of Brodhead young ladies who are well known in this city were town yesterday afternoon being on their way to Milwaukee. From the Cream City they will take a trip around the lakes as the guests of Mrs. M. P. Bower formerly of Brodhead, but now of Milwaukee. The party included Misses Grace Rolfe, Florence Young, Lottie Fleck, Carrie Clawson, Grace Lewis and Mae Clawson.

A. O. H. Attention.

A special meeting of Division No. 1, A. O. H., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at their hall, to make arrangements for the funeral of our late brother, P. W. Fleming. Per order of President.

MAY MAKE BUTTONS IN LOCAL PLANT

FIRM IS FIGURING ON LOCATING HERE.

Gutman Brothers, of New York City, Proposes to Engage in Business and Rent a Building—This City the Headquarters for Trade in Shells Used in Manufacture.

Whether or not Janesville wants a pearl button factory to employ a force of over 100 hands is a proposition that the citizens will be soon be given a chance to consider.

That such a factory can be located in this city there is now little doubt the promoters say. The first move in the matter has been made in the renting of the North Main street building formerly occupied by the Bower City Light and Power company.

This building has been leased by Attorney Ed. F. Carpenter to S. G. and A. G. Gutman of New York City, who will use the same for a general storage house for clam shells. It is the intention to ship these shells to this city from all sections of Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois. Janesville will be the main distributing point for this section of the country.

G. S. Marsh of New York City was in the city today to complete necessary plans for the establishment of the receiving plant in this city.

The Factory Plans.

The firm of Gutman Brothers, of 452 Broadway, New York City, are numbered among the heaviest importers in this country, and the manufacture of pearl buttons they class as one of their leading lines. They now have several factories in this section of the country. As a clam producing region they consider the territory adjacent to this county as being unusually productive. For this reason they have selected the Bower City as their main receiving point.

Mr. Marsh has been in Brodhead, and it is said that the merchants of that city are striving hard to have this proposed factory located there. Inducements have been offered them and it is said that the firm would have but little trouble in securing a site and a factory. Richard Finley of this city has been appointed local receiving agent and it is expected that as soon as the North Main street building can be put in shape clam shells will be shipped too and from this city in ton lots. As an inducement to all who wish to hunt for shells this firm offer $1 a hundred pounds. It is said that a representative of the firm will soon be in the city for the purpose of interesting people in the proposed factory.

THE OLDEST SETTLER HERE

I. J. Smith Has Lived in Rock County Since 1836.

I. J. Smith, a resident of LaPrairie and who claims the honor of being the oldest living male settler in Rock county, was in the city yesterday and was greeting his numerous friends. Mr. Smith is now a man of eighty years. For sixty-one years he has been a resident of this county, having come here from Racine on May 19, 1836. In 1834 he was in Chicago. Then that place had but one hundred while inhabitants.

"In those days a man could sleep out in the open air in Chicago without even being molested," remarked Mr. Smith yesterday "and I think that that is more than you can say of that town today."

Mr. Smith slept in the open air in Chicago, with a considerable sum of money in his pocket while on his way to Rock county.

ELKS MAY VISIT ST. PAUL.

Local Lodge Has An Invitation to Help Celebrate July 7.

Members of Janesville Lodge, No. 254 B. P. O. Elks, have received a very cordial invitation from St. Paul Lodge No. 59, for St. Paul day at the Grand Lodge in Minneapolis, July 7. The letter goes on to say: "No. 59 will try to make any day of your presence in either city a memorable day; but July 7 will be the red letter day; it will be Greek fire with manna on the side."

B. H. Baldwin, who is making arrangements for the visit of the local Elks of the Grand Lodge, has hopes of taking a large and enthusiastic delegation.

Oscar Brownell's Horse Runs Away, Striking G. W. Yahn's Buggy.

Oscar Brownell barely escaped serious injury in a runaway accident at 9 o'clock last evening on Milton avenue. A spirited horse, hitched to a cart, became unmanageable, and running down the avenue at break neck speed, collided with a buggy containing Mrs. George Yahn, Mrs. Dowd and four small children. The collision threw Mr. Brownell violently to the ground, and the Yahn buggy was badly damaged.

CUPID'S PLANS CONSUMED.

Crawford—Parker

At ten o'clock this morning at the West Bluff street home of Grant Noyes, the ceremony was performed that united as husband and wife Frederick N. Lawson and Mrs. Albert Parker. Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the Forest Park home of the bride where a wedding repast and reception was given. The bride is well known in this city and possessed of many friends while the groom is in the employ of the Northwestern railroad company. They will continue to make Janesville their home.

OFFICER BROWN AN ACROBAT

He Jumps Into a Buggy When Horse is Running.

As a first class acrobat there is little doubt but what Officer John Brown is entitled to a place in the front ranks of the profession. At 1 o'clock this morning a speedy horse came around the corner of Main and Milwaukee street, driven by a young man. The officer ordered the driver to stop, but he paid no attention to the command. Officer Brown grabbed hold of the bows of the buggy top, and with one swing he jumped into the buggy. The young man, after being given plenty of good advice, was allowed to depart, as he was very very meek.

OVERWORK KILLS

How Some Callings in Life Invite and Encourage Kidney Disease.

Floorwalker Lacroix Tells How He Was Afflicted and What Cured Him—The Remedy For All Kidney Ills Is DODD'S Kidney Pills.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 18—More men wear themselves out by overwork than ever did of idleness. The trouble with many of us is that we burn the candle at both ends, so to speak. Take a man who has to use his brain constantly. He should not be obliged to do work that also calls for great muscular endurance. But take the clerk or the floor-manager, especially. He is on his feet constantly supervising the work of others. Using his brain and his feet, he doubly works and wears himself out.

Such are the people that have kidney disease. Many of them do not know what ails them. They know that they are half sick. But they are not sick enough to go to bed and they hope that they will get better. They might get better if they would get their kidneys right. But the kidneys are put right only by using a medicine that acts directly and potently upon the kidneys.

The best of modern medicines is DODD'S Kidney Pills. It is the only medicine that relieves all kidney ailments.

Many a clerk will be glad to know what will take away "that tired feeling." They ought to know that it is their kidneys that are failing. Take the case of A. N. Lacroix, floor manager for the shoe department of S. E. Olsen & Co., this city:

DODD'S MEDICINE CO.
Gentlemen—I have been trouble for a year with Kidney Diseases. I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking part of the box, all pains have left me. I highly recommend them as a first class remedy. I can say that I am cured. I give you leave to publish this if it will benefit others similarly afflicted.

A. N. LACROIX.
Fifth St. and First Ave., South Minneapolis.

An Excellent Reason.
"What do you mean, Roaly, by paying out money for expensive cigars in these hard times?"
"The tobaccoist won't trust me."—Detroit Free Press.

No Room for Doubt.
Mrs. Henpeck—I see a man out west sold his wife for $12. What do you think of that?
Mr. Henpeck—She must have been a good one.—Town Topics.

Pertinent.
Miss Passee—I assure you I have lived only 18 short years.

By Order of Committee on Public Buildings, W. J. McINTYRE, County Clerk.

A Man of Resources.

A good story is told of the late Count Gleichen when he was ambassador in London. At a dinner party it was his hard luck to have to conduct to table a lady of taciturn and unresponsive nature.

To all his polite nothings she answered never a word. Nothing daunted, he continued to ply her with small talk, till at last she slowly turned her head toward him and deliberately yawned. The count was equal to the occasion. "Ah, madam," he said, loudly, "I also have yawned in my teeth."—Pearson's Weekly.

A Heartless Strategem.

"How did they stop the elopement?" asked Maud.
"By a detestable piece of trickery," replied Mamie.
"They came very near getting away in safety."

"Yes. But her father put his head out of the window and shouted that her hat was on crooked, and when she grabbed for it she upset the tandem."—Washington Star.

Parental Diplomacy.

"Father, did not Mr. Bithers ask you for my hand last week?"

"He did."

"And I have not heard from him since. Did you insult him?"

"Me? Great Scott, no! I shook his hand and told him I was highly pleased with your choice, as I was getting tired of working for my own living."—Indianapolis Journal.

Misfortune.

Neverwork (the tramp)—You might not think it, mum, but once upon a time I was living as comfortable as any man could wish to, till misfortune overtook me.

Lady—Indeed! What was the misfortune?

Tramp—Me father-in-law lost his job.—Larks.

Underestimated Capability.

"Do you remember our first quarrel, dearest?"

"Yes, love."

"I said you were just as mean as you could be."

"I believe you did."

"Oh, William, how mistaken I was!"—N. Y. Journal.

Cause and Effect.

Yeast—They say that persons of opposite temperaments should marry.

Crimsonbeak—Yes; that's why I married my wife.

"Are your temperaments opposite?"

"They must be. She sings when she's happy, and when she sings I feel miserable."—Yonkers Statesman.

Not Guilty.

Danbury Brush—So your father has consented to our marriage, and after saying he'd never allow you to marry an artist! How did he come to change his mind?

Miss Postergirl—He hasn't changed his mind, but he has seen some of your pictures.—Up-to-Date.

A Parliamentary Hint.

It was getting late, and still the venerable ex-United States senator lingered in the parlor with the young people. Evidently something had to be done.

"I hope, papa," said his daughter, gently but resolutely, "that you will not be offended if I now move a close call of the house, during which all persons not entitled to the floor will please retire, while Charlie and I discuss a question of personal privilege!"—N. Y. Truth.

Unforeseen.

"Before I married her," he said thoughtfully, "I vowed that I would punish anybody who brought a tear to her bright eyes."

"And you kept your word, of course?"

"Not precisely. I didn't take into consideration the fact that, like the rest of her sex, she would put in whole afternoons sympathizing with the heroine of an emotional play."—Washington Star.

Somebody Else Was.

Young Bride—I didn't accept Tom the first time he proposed.

Miss Ryval (slightly envious)—I know you didn't.

Young Bride—How do you know?

Miss Ryval—You weren't there.—N. Y. World.

Evidence of Strength.

"Is your baby strong?"

"Well, I should say so. He raised the whole family out of bed at three o'clock this morning, and scientists say that that's the hour when everybody's strength is at its lowest point."—Boston Traveler.

she snored.

"How does your wife sleep?" asked the doctor of the man whose better half was under his care.

"Orally," said the man.—N. Y. Truth.

GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of loneliness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever.

Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to set the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

after eating a hearty meal, and the result is a chronic case of Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Dyspepsia, or a bilious attack.

RIPANS TABULES

Promote Digestion, Regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, Purify the Blood, and are a Positive Cure for Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, and all other Disorders arising from a disordered condition of the Liver and Stomach. They act gently yet promptly, and perfect digestion follows their use.

Ripans Tablets take the place of an Entire Medicine Chest, and should be kept for use in every family.

EXOTICS.

Lilies that bloom out of season, lilacs with never a leaf,
Roses that have not the perfume should live
in the heart of a rose.
Could ye not wait till the summer? for now
is the year at its close.
Winter behooves us truly, but spring shall soon bring us relief.

Lilies shall flower in my garden, lilacs shall come with the May,
Roses shall bloom by the pathways, roses
leaves lie on the lawn.
Could ye not wait till the thrushes woke you
with them ere the dawn Flushed all the west and the summer came with the fullness of day?

One life was yours, and the summer waited to give you the sun,
Warm dew of night in the starlight, wonderful whisper of rain.
Songs of the nightingale, ever lilacs, an angel in pain.
All had been yours had ye waited, lilacs and roses undone.

—H. D. Lowry in New York Tribune.

CROSSING THE GULF.

They were both guests at the same country house that autumn. He was an artist, handsome, gifted, well born, but poor as the proverbial church mouse
and proud as Lucifer. She was an heiress, who, on attaining her majority some three years ago, had come into about $5,000 a year. Added to this attraction she was beautiful, clever and charming. She was bright, high spirited and very independent, as suitors soon found to their cost.

"You'll be an old maid, Isabel," remonstrated the aunt with whom she lived. "You are nearly 24, my dear."
"I don't care, auntie," laughed the young lady. "An old maid is as good as anything, a thousand times better than having a husband one doesn't care for.
I'm not in love, dear, and so I mean to keep my freedom."

That was said—and said truly then—some weeks before she came on that visit to Halcorn Grange and there met the artist, Eric Errington, but could she have said the same as truly now, when the visit was drawing to a close? The lips might perhaps. The heart was another matter entirely, and she knew it.
She was no tyro of a girl in her teens,
but a woman who lived in the world
and neither could nor would deceive herself. She knew that she loved Errington and he loved her, despite his proud reticence and silence. What woman could not read between the lines?
What man could possibly at all times completely guard every look and tone
and touch when thrown so constantly each day with the loved one? He is unconscious how or when his secret is betrayed to that one.

But no one save Isabel Brandon herself suspected Errington's secret. He neither held aloof nor markedly sought her.
But there were one or two others among the party who did so, and one day Major Glyn, the host, said half jestingly
to Eric:

"My dear fellow, why don't you try your chance with the beautiful heiress and win a fortune and therewith a speedy rise to fame?"

"Thank you, no!" said the artist, with a laugh and shrug, to cover the deeper feelings stirred. "I have no intention of being ticketed 'fortune hunter' by the world or the fair lady herself.
Even a poor devil of an artist may keep his pride and honor untarnished."

"But, Errington, nonsense!" Glyn said. "Suppose you really cared for a girl who happened to be rich?"

"So much the worse for me, Glyn."
"You really mean that you wouldn't woo her or ask her hand?"

"Never," said the other.
This had passed on the terrace.

Some one half behind the lace curtains of a window above drew back,
with quivering lips and heaving breast.

"Is this terrible gold of mine to be ever, then, a hopeless barrier between two lives?" Isabel muttered, locking her white hands. "He will never speak,
never breathe a word, and I—Heaven,
what can I—the woman—say or do without shame? And yet—yet—is gold and a mistake but noble pride and sense of honor to keep us apart forever?
I know he loves me—would tell me so at once were I poor. Oh, it is cruel, cruel! Something ought—must be done,
but what?"

There it was; she, the woman, was so helpless. And shortly after this the party broke up.

A month later the artist one evening received a letter from Isabel, and to his utter surprise and joy, oddly mixed with pain, she wished him to paint her portrait. Would he please call on her at 11
the next day.

Of course he would go, but how go through the ordeal without self betrayal?

Isabel had to strive with herself long harder for the ordeal she had at length, with an infinite courage, resolved to face. Therefore was it she had named an hour free from all visitors, and when her aunt, Mrs. Brandon, would still be in her own apartment. One of the two,
she saw, must cross the Rubicon and burn the boats behind if both their lives were to be saved from wreck, and since he would not, well, she, the heiress,
must, whatever the cost.

When she was told he was in the drawing room—when almost the actual moment had arrived—her heart sank,
and at the very door she had to pause a minute to pull herself together. Then she went in. How the man's dark eyes lighted up! How unconsciously close was the clasp of his hand on hers! If she had had one fleeting doubt of his love, that second must have dispelled it.

"What a pleasure to see you again,
Miss Brandon!" he said. "And what an honor you do me to let me paint your portrait!"

"Is it? It is good of you to call it so," Isabel answered brightly, but inwardly
every nerve was quivering and strained.
"Aunt Mary began again yesterday about having my picture done, so I wrote to you. My aunt will be down presently, but in the meanwhile we can arrange the sittings, dress and so forth."
Errington passed by the "so forth,"

and only arranged for her dress and the sittings.

"But now," she said, "that that is settled, we come to—you must please name your!"

"Pardon me," Errington interposed, with resolute quietude that in itself
gave her fresh surety of her ground,
"but you must do me the great favor to let that part rest until the work is finished. You are not like a stranger!"

"Indeed, I hope not," Isabel said gently. "Well, be it as you please, then."

"Thank you very much, Miss Brandon."

He rose.
She, too, stood up. The moment had come. The woman's heart stood still for a moment that was agony. Two lives'— happiness or misery hung on her courage or failure.

"Well, I suppose your time is valuable," she said, turning to him, but her eyes did not fully meet his. "By the bye, Mr. Errington, I believe—if I am rightly informed—that I have come to congratulate you!"

"Congratulate me!" repeated the artist
in genuine surprise. "For what?"

On his account?—
His surprise, and, oddly enough, the very comedy of the position gave her new courage. "Why, I heard that you are engaged to an heiress," she said.

The Rubicon was crossed. There was no going back now, come what would.
Errington flushed to the brow, then paled again.

"It is absolutely untrue," he said in a strained way and drew back a step.

"It never could be true of me!"

"But why not?" persisted Isabel, now standing to her colors with true feminine stanchness, her eyes aglow, her soft tones steady. "If, as I heard, you are attached to her, why should your engagement be an impossibility, as you imply?"

Had some one—Glyn perhaps—dared to tell her this, meaning herself, but without naming her, flashed across Eric,
in haughty wrath and pain.

"Why impossible?" he repeated, stung to a sort of desperation. "Because I am a poor, struggling man who holds his honor dearer even than love, if the story were true. Neither the world nor any woman born should have the right to believe me a dishonored fortune hunter."

"The world's judgment!" she said,
and now her breath came quickly, her eyes flashed like diamonds. "You are not such a coward, I know, as to fear that. But is it much less cowardly to be afraid of even the risk of the woman's mistaking your motive—the woman you love, remember?" She was speaking with a strangely passionate if suppressed force that sent a sudden vague thrill through the man—a dim sense of something that dazzled him, of a personality beneath the overt meaning, an assertion of his love for the heiress as a fact, not a mere figure of argument.

"The woman you love, remember, and whose happiness perhaps your pride may wreck as well as your own, who doubtless knows your heart's secret and curses the miserable gold and cruel pride that stands between your lives."

"Isabel!" Errington sprang to her side, caught her hands in his own. "My darling, my love from the first! Forgive, if you can, worse than fool that I have been. Ah, my poor Isabel!"

For the girl burst into tears as he looked her to his heart. The tension must needs give way at last, brave girl though she was.

"Oh, why were you so cruel? Why did you force me to—to—oh, Eric!"

"My darling, forgive me! Because I loved so much I feared your scornful refusal. Why should you think me different from other wooers? And I never dreamed of this happiness, dearest," he said passionately. "One word—tell me
you forgive your lover."

"Eric, I love you," she whispered and lifted her face for his kiss.

What matter if some of the world did say, when the marriage did take place,
that it was the money the painter had sought? He cared not, and those who knew him and his wife knew well it was a love match entirely. The picture
—not a mere portrait—of beautiful Mrs.
Errington, when seen the next May at the academy, made a sensation and sent up the rising artist's name at once.

"So, after all, you see, Eric," his wife says, arch and tender in tone, "you will win the best in the end, fortune
and fame."

"And the priceless treasure that neither gold nor fame could buy," he answers, smiling down on the dear face,
"my wife."—Folks at Home.

Ancient and Modern Clothing.

Modern wearing apparel was not cut to fit, as is our modern clothing. Having no definite shape of its own, it did not disguise the wearer's figure, and the grace and beauty of Greek drapery are dependent almost entirely on the perfect proportions of the figure beneath. The tunic worn by both Greeks and Romans
was little, if at all, fitted to the wearer,
and, when ungirded, hung in folds all round, while the toga was little more than a sheet and was worn in all sorts of ways according to the prevailing fashion. The Jews of old seem to have worn breeches, but the rest of their clothing seems to have been simply wrapped round them, for it was difficult for them to run or even walk fast without first "girding up their loins." The clothing of the northern races was probably always more of a fit than that of the southern, for they used leather, which does not lend itself to simple draping, but our ancestors probably wore an almost shapeless tunic belted at the waist. Another striking difference is found in the gradual monopoly by women of the ornamental element in dress.
Once masculine dress was by far the most splendid, and woman, holding an absolutely subordinate social position, had to content herself with humbler attire. As she has won her way to freedom and equality she has annexed, not only the beautiful, but the extravagant elements of costume and left man to content himself with a condition of colorless utility.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Life Saved.

A FOND DAUGHTER WAS NIGH TO DEATH.

Frank B. Trout Tells a Reporter of How His Daughter's Life Was Saved. All Parents Should be Interested in This Narrative.

From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

Using as a nucleus for his investigation
the rumor that the life of the daughter of Frank B. Trout, well known in Detroit, Mich., real estate circles, had been saved,
a reporter called on Mr. Trout at his office, 103 Griswold Avenue. Mr. Trout showed some hesitancy in giving his opinion for publication, but finally said: "Circumstances and a father's love for his child forced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but not until the whole medical profession had exhausted their skill. At the age of fourteen we had to take our daughter from school owing to her health.
Before this she had been in the best of health, happy and in the best of spirits. She began to fall away and became pale and languid. She was so weak that she would fall down in a faint every time she tried to walk unsupported. The best of physicians attended her, but she continued to grow weaker and seemed to be gradually fading away."

"When she was fifteen she weighed only ninety pounds, and the doctors said it was anemia. Several physicians said she might outgrow it, but that it would no doubt terminate in consumption. No doctor we had could help her, and we concluded ourselves,
we must lose our child, as she was growing weaker every day."

"We had tried all the well-known remedies, and finally about a year ago I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and took them home. That day I had read of a case about the same as my daughter's, and decided to give them a trial, though I must confess I did not have much faith. Before she had taken all of the first box we noticed a change for the better. She, however, gained strength daily and looked brighter. Every one noticed the change, and I bought two more boxes for her.

"When she had taken two boxes she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself.
Today she is entirely cured, and is a big,
strong, healthy girl, weighing 130 pounds,
and has never had a sick day since."

"I do not think she uses them now,
though I always keep them in the house.
My wife and I have recommended them to our neighbors, and sent a few to another young girl who seems to be in the same condition as my daughter. Had not Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my daughter's life, I would not recommend them to any one. I know they do all and more than is claimed for them, and I am glad to recommend them to the world. I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my daughter's life, and that is enough for me."

F. B. TROUT.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this fourth day of March, 1897.

Wayne County, Michigan.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves.
They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

The Grocerymen.

Hard-Bake.

An amusing incident happened at a farm, where the people were noted for making very hard and unpalatable crusts to their pastry.

One day a tramp came to the door and begged for something to eat. He was given a custard, with a crust so hard that it lifted out of the dish whole.

He was seen to go down the yard, and, having devoured the contents, returned shortly afterward with the crust, and said:

"Please, mum, I've brought your pie dish back, and thank you!" — Golden Days.

A Familiar Problem.

Young Mrs. Torkins had been carefully studying a picture which showed the costumes of the Greek and Turkish soldiers. Laying the paper aside she exclaimed with a sigh:

"There's nothing new under the sun, is there, Charley, dear?"

"To what do you refer?"

"The European situation. It seems to be the same old question of which it's to be, skirts or bloomers." — Washington Star.

His First Trip.

He had never been in one of the fast elevators. He went to the top all right. Then came the descent. It was like lightning. The boy pushed him out, and was about to close the door, when the old gent hollered out:

"Hold on, thar; I want to go back."

"What fer?"

"I left my stummick up thar." — N. Y. World.

What Caused It.

"Did you hear about Grawler?" said the man with the long mustache. "He bet Smithers $100 that he could live on bread and water for 15 days."

"What did he do with the money?" asked the man in the corner.

"They bought his coffin with it. His wife insisted on making the bread." — Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune.

The End of a Romance.

Miss Plutus—But Capt. Hawleigh, would you love me when I grow old and ugly?

The Captain (grallantly)—You may grow older, my dear Miss Plutus, but you can never grow uglier.

And he wondered why she rejected him.—Tit-Bits.

A Lasting Impression.

"I think there are other ways of correcting children than by whipping them," observed Bobby's mother, sweetly, to her guest.

"Yes'm! You kin pinch ther legs till they holler, can't you?" put in Bobby, from his supposedly silent corner.—Chicago Record.

In Training.

Bella—Why are you standing before the mirror and screwing up your face into such funny shapes?

Bella—I'm practicing a look of amazement. The girls are going to give me a surprise party to-night.—N. Y. Journal

Swedish Epworth League.

Galesburg, Ill., June 19.—The annual meeting of the Epworth League of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal churches of the Galesburg district is in session in this city, with the president, Rev. James Wigren of Chicago, in the chair. Many delegates from Chicago, Aurora, Moline, Geneva, Galesburg, Princeton, Batavia and other places are in attendance. The session Friday was given up to the reports of officers and a number of papers and addresses on topics connected with the church. The convention continues over Sunday.

Said to Be Short $100,000.

Nashville, Tenn., June 19.—Rumors which have been in circulation for several weeks concerning Thomas Callendar, a young man of this city, the southern agent of the Ladin & Rand Powder company of New York, have resulted in the offer of a reward for his arrest. It is alleged his shortage in Nashville accounts is $7,000, and it is also alleged that shortages in other states may reach $100,000.

Told to Acquit Shriver.

Washington, June 19.—Judge Bradley on Friday instructed the jury in the case of John S. Shriver, the correspondent of the Mail and Express, under trial for alleged contempt of the senate sugar trust investigating committee, to bring in a verdict of acquittal. The ground stated by the judge was that the question asked and answer to which was refused was not pertinent.

This Comes from England.

"Do not put your feet on the cushions" is an injunction frequently read in a railway carriage: "or you will dirty your boots" was found added the other day by a witty traveler.—Tit-Bits.

A Slow Boy.

"I hear, Grumpy, that your hired man is down with slow fever."

"Of course he is. He's too infernal slow to catch any other kind." — Detroit Free Press.

Deductions.

"Isabel didn't marry a handsome man."

"How do you know?"

"She had such a quiet wedding." — Chicago Record.

A Slight Drawback.

He—I fancy men believe in friendship rather more than women do.

She—Possibly, but the great trouble is it's generally their own friendship they believe in.—Brooklyn Life.

Light in the Darkness.

He—Is there anything I can do for you to make life brighter?

She—Yes, Tom; turn down the gas.—Yonkers Statesman.

Picnickers, Attention...

Those wishing to go up the river for a day's outing can make arrangements with C. A. Sanborn & Co. for the use of a Steam Launch with a capacity for carrying twenty or twenty-five people. The launch can be run up river six or seven miles to any point the party wishes to stop at. A very neat little park, called "IDLEWILD," five miles up, that is especially nice for picnic parties, can also be arranged for.

Those wishing to camp out will find an ideal spot at "IDLEWILD PARK." Rates reasonable.
